It's a New Year so next time you are in Dollies why not try something new? Puer Tea is black tea made using the Yunnan grown Assamica leaf. Yunnan is a Province in Southwest China (which includes the areas of Lincang, Xishuangbanna, and Puer). Puer Tea can be challenging as it does not lend itself to the charms of sweeteners. The basic description is to refer to it as a fermented tea, which it is, but it can be drunk immediately after it is made or it can be aged indefinitely. The environment in which it is stored and/or aged will have a signature impact so try more than one type. As with other teas the tea tree, the season, the weather conditions and even the mountain of origin play a pivotal role in the outcome. The flavor profiles of Puer range from very light and delicate to strong, earthy and robust. You will sometimes find it sold in cake form as opposed to the loose leaf form we provide in the Tea Room. This tea pairs well with many of the meat sandwiches we serve each month and certainly stands on its own providing a warm winter embrace during these days we all wish to hibernate! Stay warm and we look forward to providing you a warm embrace at the Tea Room very soon. ~ Amy

News from the Kitchen for 2020

We always want to understand any food allergies and/or dietary restrictions our guests may have but as a Tea Room we do have limitations that a full service restaurant or another Tea Room may not have. In order to serve our guests to the best of our ability we would like you to be aware of a few important changes for 2020 when you make your Reservation requests:

- 1. We are not able to support a vegan or lactose intolerant diet.*
- 2. We serve one gluten-free food option called Mark's Lunch which is served with chicken salad on a bed of greens. We will no longer carry gluten-free bread and we have no gluten free dessert options. Our soups and salads, which change monthly, are at times gluten-free so please inquire.*
- 3. We are no longer serving the Amy's Tea. Jane's Tea is now $22. We thank you for your continued patronage and understanding and hope to serve you very soon.*

Happy New Year Tea Friends!
